

Summer Reading

There are many ways to celebrate your reading work this summer. Use the table below for some ideas and feel free to add your own. Check off the boxes you complete so you can share with your new classmates.

Read outside.	Keep a reading journal.	Your Idea: 	Read with a family member.	Read a book published this year.
Read two books by the same author.	Read with a friend.	Take a picture of the books you read.	Your Idea: 	Write a letter to the author.
Take a picture of you reading.	Your Idea: 	Read at the library.	Write a book review.	Read on a rainy day.
Read to someone.	Read a nonfiction book.	Read for more than 20 minutes in one day.	Draw/ write about a character you read about.	Your Idea:
Your Idea: 	Read under a tree.	Create cover art for a book you read.	Read in the morning.	Read a newspaper.